Italian Priest Visits Pass

Father Giovanni Petrone, pastor of St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Grimaldi, Italy, was a visitor at the home of his cousins, Archie Petrone of Pincher Creek, Ric Petrone of Bellevue and Guido Petrone of Hillcrest, last week.

While on his tour of Canada, Father Petrone also visited with another cousin, Edward Petrone, in Winnipeg, Man.

Father Petrone, who comes from Grimaldi, Italy, a village of some 3,000 persons, is on a Canadian visit, and while here was feted at Edmonton at a supper where many new Italian-Canadians from Grimaldi had settled.

Many of the parents of new Canadians are known by Father Petrone, who carried messages from parents to children, and also a request to write home more often.

Old Landmarks Being Demolished

An old landmark, known as the Kubin home on Main Street, is being demolished. No records are on hand as to the age of this building, but it is said to be one of the first homes built in Coleman.

Thanks to Mr. James Atkinson for the nearest date of its erection, when he found a tattered piece of old newspaper in the partitions, yellow with age, and believed to be part of a Spokane daily dated July 13, 1903. Mr. J. Tymchyna has purchased the property.

Another landmark on Third St., known as the Cooley residence, has also been demolished, and one of the Milley houses on the East hill was also torn down.

Geologists Visit C. N. Pass

Approximately 130 Canadian and American geologists took part in the 14th annual Field Conference sponsored by the Alberta Society of Petroleum Geologists.

The men travelled by bus and left Calgary Thursday afternoon, August 26th, and attended a pre-conference field trip along the Kananaskis Forestry Road.

On Friday morning the group proceeded to the Fernie area where a field conference was held with studies being made of the Geology of the Wigwag River and Lodgepole Creek.

The Hefty Thrust and Broadwood Anticline areas were also studied.

Dinner was held at Fernie and lunches were provided for the men by the Turtle Mountain Hotel at the Morrisey Campsite and the Flathead Campsite.

Saturday was devoted to the study of geology along the Fernie-Morrisey-Howell Creek, Flathead-Townsite, Corbin Creek areas.

Field lectures were given by a number of the professional geologists.

The affair wound up Saturday night when the men returned to Frank where they attended a barbeque at the Turtle Mountain Hotel before returning to Calgary.

New Pastor Inducted At St. Paul's United Church

Rev. Larry Edwards of the Pincher Creek United Church, and Rev. Sid Bell of McKillop United Church in Lethbridge, conducted the Induction Services at St. Paul's United Church Thursday evening, September 3rd, when Peter Walker of Lethbridge took over as pastor of the Coleman and Hillcrest United Churches.

The Induction Services began at 7:30 p.m. and many members of the congregations attended. A Fellowship Hour was held after the Induction Services were over.

Mr. Walker comes to Coleman from the First United Church in North Lethbridge, whose minister is the Rev. D. L. Weatherburn.

Mr. Walker replaces the Rev. H. G. deLewue, who has accepted a call at Delburne, Alberta.

Mr. Walker, his wife Beth Lavina, and two sons, Edward Peter and Donald Charles, and two daughters, Marilyn Betty and Donna Marguerite, arrived here Sunday to take up residence in the newly re-decorated church manse. All four children will be attending Horace Allen high school.

The Walkers' eldest son George Robert, is attending the Royal Military College in Kingston, Ont.

Coleman Hockey Club Formed

A general hockey meeting is scheduled to be held in Coleman to form an intermediate "A" Hockey Club comprising players from Coleman and Fernie was held in the Grand Union Hotel on Sunday attended by a good representation of interested men from Fernie and Coleman.

A slate of officers was elected and will comprise President Vance Caskey of Coleman, vice president and manager Richard "Dick" Koentges of Blairmore, secretary treasurer John Miller of Coleman. The executive will comprise Rev. Denis Fleming, Tony Coccione, Ernie Lant and Bill Filewich of Coleman and Alex Taylor and Stu Campbell of Fernie.

The Hockey Club will be known as the Coleman Legionnaires and plans call for the team to be entered into the Big Six Hockey League, which comprises entries from Okotoks, Medicine Hat, Taber, Lethbridge and Calgary.

A Big Six League meeting is scheduled to be held in Lethbridge on Sunday, Sept. 13 and will be attended by delegates Vance Caskey, Father Fleming, Dick Koentges and Alex Taylor who will attempt to enter the Coleman team in the League. It is expected that a schedule of games will be drawn up at the Sunday meeting.

Teachers Delighted With New Education

Social Studies and Science teachers from all parts of Alberta, as well as representatives from British Columbia and Great Britain, devoted a week to experiencing the techniques of organized field study.

Hosted by the town of Hinton, the Pulp Mill and the Edison School Division, the teachers ascended an Alpine meadow, scanned vistas from a fire tower, studied glaciers in Jasper Park, interviewed trail blazing pioneers and examined historic documents.

The course was designed to make field study an essential part of Social Studies and Science programs. The seminar was sponsored and financed by the Alberta Social Studies Council.

Council past president, G. J. deLewue observed: "The delighted response of the teachers is most encouraging. I am confident that field study in Hinton will continue each August."

Professor E. E. Owen of the University of Victoria, a chief consultant during the week, summed up the central theme, "The essence of field work is the going and looking and thinking about the commonplace reality in the world around us. Inherently this activity is at once both physical and mental — the walking and clambering to a vantage point and the discussion, speculation and appreciation of the visible landscape around us. The activity has been wryly described as 'learning through our boots'. These procedures have been advocated and practiced in Western Europe since the beginning of the century."

Coleman School Averages Are Satisfactory

Horace Allen, principal of the Horace Allen High School, announced last week that of the 192 papers written in grade 12 that 71.4 per cent had attained a B standing or better, and that 91.7 per cent had attained a diploma standing in grade 12. The figures indicate that 137 of the 192 attained a matriculation standing, and 176 received a diploma standing.

Total school population in the Horace Allen High School, Central School and Cameron School is 1,842, which shows a slight decrease over last year's enrolment figure.

This number will increase by the end of September as a number of students that are planning on returning have not as yet registered. A total of 51 new students have enrolled in the grade one classes.

the century."

Another consultant, Professor Evelyn Moore of the University of Alberta, commented, "In Great Britain there are already over 100 field study centres and the number is steadily increasing."

"School children from as young as nine years, attend the centres for specialized instruction in History, Geography and the Sciences. We hope our seminar will be influential in inspiring a similar movement in Canada."

Mr. Jerome Rejman of the teaching staff of the Horace Allen High School, Coleman, has recently returned home after attending this field study seminar at Hinton.

Extensive Damage to Car in Hitting Cow

Mrs. G. Horn and her son Harry escaped injury when the car Harry was driving collided with a black cow on the highway near Elko, B.C. last week. Evidently the hardtop highway and the color of the cow was much the same, this combined with a heavy sleet and rain made visibility very poor.

Their car received extensive damage.

Mrs. Horn stated had it not been for their seat belts they would have no doubt been thrown from the car and received injuries. Both were shaken up considerably.

Local Woman Suffers In Freak Accident

Mrs. Marlene Fuchs is making good recovery in the C.N.P. hospital as the result of a freak accident that occurred in her home over the weekend.

Mrs. Fuchs was doing her household duties when her coal fired kitchen stove exploded. Pieces of metal struck her in the right leg and she had to be taken to hospital to have the imbedded metal pieces removed. The stove disintegrated from the force of the explosion and considerable damage was done to the walls and floor of the home.

Lyall Hammond Appointed Chief Steam Engineer

Clint Rasmussen, Superintendent of Jefferson Lake Petrochemicals at Coleman, announced the arrival of the "Pass" of Lyall Hammond as Chief Steam Engineer at their Coleman Sulphur Plant.

Mr. Hammond replaces Mr. Dave Flockhart, and was transferred from the Company's Plant at Balzac, Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammond have three children and will reside at Blairmore.

CANADA THEATRE (Clayton Bricker)

With the re-opening of schools will come the renewed use of suitable films. Among these will be the History Makers, dramatized presentation of the men who organized the Canadian State. But, history making did not end with them; it continued in many directions, in many ways. It continues today with broadening demand upon film makers to get it on the record.

Your National Film Board production crews, and those of an ever-growing body of vigorous English and French private film companies, are working diligently to do the job and keep us informed as to our growth and progress.

Crawley Films is a well known private producer whose development has paralleled that of the Board. They have co-operated and gained from each other over the years.

During the past decade, growing television services have opened the field to Canadian enterprise. Talented Canadians who had gone abroad have returned, glad to find opportunity at home to exercise their talents.

Fletcher Markie is an example from a growing number. Many of us follow his program—Telescope. National Film Board subjects are frequently seen over the air, like the Comparison Series, which included "Four Families" — a comparison, at the young-family level, drawn from India, Japan, France and Canada. You may remember it.

This Series will re-open September 14th with "The Slave To Three", comparing actress Katina Paxinou of Greece, dancer Chaturpurn Ratanavhara of Thailand and Canadian actor Bruno Gerussi.

The producer is Julian Biggs. This new series, on talented people at home and abroad, will be as absorbing as any we have had.

Remember the date — September 14th. Ask your station to confirm it locally and the time of the broadcast. Many more fine subjects will be shown during the program year. Watch for them.

Should you wish to use films yourselves, contact Mr. R. H. Crabb, President, C.N.P. Film Council, c/o Variety Shop, Blairmore. He will be glad to provide 16mm films and a projector. Ask for catalogue lists and the rental rates.

All men are created equal—and endowed by their Creator with an insatiable urge to become otherwise.

Making good use of their summer holidays, 130 teen-agers, along with several adults, attended the recently completed Band and Orchestra Workshop at the Mount Royal Conservatory of Music in Calgary.

Sponsored by the Recreation and Cultural Development Branch of the Alberta Provincial Secretary's Department, the Workshop provided individual, ensemble and group instruction in band and orchestra, as well as a Band Directors' Workshop. Instructors from across Canada, the U.S. and England, furnished professional teaching for the courses, which were attended by band directors and orchestra and band students from throughout the province.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

Money and Evil

Quite frequently one hears television characters comment that "Money is the root of all evil". Not so. It is the love of money that is evil, not money itself or the possessor of it. Indeed, money is a symbol of work done, of useful things accomplished, and in these things all sensible persons take pride. Pride in the money itself is stupid and evil.

It has always seemed to me that those persons who are obsessed about money, either their own or someone else's, are lost souls, and are to be pitied. They either condemn a neighbor for too much money, or pity him for too little; their minds never dwell on his real character or his abilities, his indolence or his diligence. Blind in their judgment of others, they are equally unlikely to take a good square look at themselves.

This misconception about money is more serious than it sounds. The boy who leaves school bent on nothing but making money is not likely to make very much of it. He is more likely to become a bitter loser, because he thinks of money as something worthwhile in itself and not as a symbol of achievement. Had his goal been achievement, money might well be a result of his striving for that goal. Money as a goal in itself is a will-o-the-wisp, seldom brings success.

It is true that the love of money is the root of a great deal of evil, and I think it is also true that hatred of money is nonsense. Emotions related to money are wasted. In itself, it deserves neither love nor hatred. Get the heart and eye on something more substantial if you want real satisfaction out of life.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

Let's Eat Well

A couple of years ago our family drove to El Paso from Winnipeg. We were impressed with the way food improved the further South we went. In North Dakota it was poor; South Dakota, indifferent; but when we reached Oklahoma we began to say uuum-ummmm-good, with all the fervor of the advertising writers.

Canadian food is improving steadily. Licensed dining rooms have to be given much of the credit. They set the pace and even the little greasy spoons must improve to survive.

To me there is something almost sacrilegious about a poor meal. To ruin perfectly good eggs or turnips, or serve them sloppily, is outrageous. Watching a careless restaurant cook dump beautiful eggs into a rancid oil is enough to prompt homicide. When a succulent Western steak is treated that way, riots ought to break out in the streets.

Canada has vegetables unmatched for flavor. A potato fresh from Canadian earth has a rich, satisfying taste you'll seldom find in the South. Our tomatoes, too, have more tomato flavor than others. Our soil is fertile and all the necessary minerals and other elements contribute to our abundance.

We ought to serve meals so good that tourists come here just to eat. Instead southerners often take meat and vegetables inferior to ours, and yet serve them so tastily they make us envious.

Lighting affects your digestion

Psychologists say proper lighting has a great deal to do with eating pleasure, whether at home or dining out.

Managers of successful restaurants know this. They spend thousands of dollars to give their establishments the right kind of lighting effects.

Secret of good dining area lighting in the home is to use the right amount of light for the size of room and the proper down light to accent the table.

Points to watch are harsh shadows and glare. Glare can cause acute visual annoyance during meal-time, while uncontrolled shadows can change for the worse the appearance of food.

A fixture that beams light up to the ceiling as well as down is often the answer.

For good decor, the fixture should blend with the decoration.

TV TALK

SEPT. 12th - 19th

There's a really big week-end in store for football fans along the CBC-TV network with an important CFL telecast on Saturday afternoon and the season-opener in the NFL Sunday afternoon.

In the Canadian Football League action September 12th, the contending Calgary Stampeders meet the highly placed Ottawa Roughriders at Landsdowne Park in the nation's capital. Opening kick-off will be at 1:00 p.m. CDT in Manitoba; 12:00 noon CST in Saskatchewan; and 11:00 a.m. MST in Alberta.

Please note, however, that station CBWT in Winnipeg will be blacked out on account of the Blue Bomber home game the same day. The NFL opener pits the champion Chicago Bears against their No. 1 challenger, the Green Bay Packers. The proud Packers have "Golden Boy" Paul Hornung back in harness after a year's suspension and they intend to regain their NFL championship.

If pre-season exhibition games mean anything, they may very well win it all. The Packers have run wild in exhibitions; the Bears obviously feeling the loss of Willie Gaffinore and John Farrington, have fared very poorly.

Game time Sunday, September 13th is 12:00 noon CST in Manitoba and Saskatchewan; 11:00 a.m. MST in Alberta.

At 3:00 p.m. Sunday, Ed Sullivan introduces the touring version of the famed Moscow State Circus. Their delightful show features noted clown Oleg Popov, acrobatic strong men, teeterboard acrobats, performing bears, gymnasts, Cossack riders and soccer-playing dogs.

The special one-hour film at 10 p.m. Sunday follows a Canadian expedition up Alaska's Mount McKinley and over the awesome Wickersham Wall, known as "The Wall of Ice". This wall starts at the 400-foot mark on the north flank of Mount McKinley (highest mountain in North America) and rises to 16,000 feet.

In their nine-day ordeal, the 8 climbers (six of whom were Canadians) covered 3 miles along the ground while climbing two miles in altitude. Prior to the ascent of the Canadian party in the summer of 1963, nobody had ever climbed the wall. That's "Wall of Ice" on Sunday at 10:00 p.m.

On Tuesday, September 15th at 8:00 p.m. CBC-TV offers "Happy End", a Swiss variety show with a difference. The experimental film winner of the 1964 Montreux Film Festival, uses trick photography to convey the many moods of the actors.

Opposition Leader John Diefenbaker is expected to attend the Progressive Conservative convention, selected coverage of which will be shown on CBC-TV, Thursday evening at 9:00 p.m.

The four-day conference on Canadian goals held at the University of New Brunswick in Fredericton, will consider the role of the individual in our changing society; the role of government in our national economy; the place for Canada in world affairs and the prospects for national unity.

Safety tips for outdoors taught to share the outdoors and be considerate of the safety of others. Bottles thrown overboard from a boat or broken along a beach can cause serious cuts to others. Broken glass can be equally dangerous in the bush. With the arrival of summer each year residents of the Kootenays—East and West—are always warned about outdoor safety. It is Boating — Young children should wear lifejackets all the time they are on mooring floats, boat decks or in open cockpit boats. These should be of an approved type. Those filled with unicellular plastic foam material are the most reliable.

Water Skiing — Children should always wear an approved life-jacket and only ski under the direct supervision of an adult.

Hiking — Very young children should be closely supervised in bush areas. Older children should be required to state where they are going, the trails or paths they will use and their time of return, and should be required to adhere to their plans. Children should not be allowed to go alone into areas with which they are not thoroughly familiar.

General — Children should be something worth thinking about and here are a few things to remember.

Swimming—Children require constant supervision whenever they are around water, including home swimming pools. Home swimming pools should have a suitable fence and a gate that can be locked whenever the pool is not supervised.

Inflatable mattresses, toys and inner tubes can be very dangerous to young children and their use should be discouraged as winds and tide carry these objects away from shore and lure youngsters out of their depth. If children are using these as swimming aids or supports, winds and tides can carry them out beyond their depth, and if they are not expert swimmers, they may panic and be in a most dangerous position. The greatest danger is if the inflated support becomes deflated. If snorkels are used, they should be of an approved type.

The air cleaner of your car's engine should be cleaned and re-oiled at the recommended intervals. A dirty air cleaner can reduce mileage by 10 per cent.

BULLETIN MAILED TO CANADIAN FARMERS

Agriculture Minister Harry Hays recently announced that the first issue of a new farm information bulletin from his department is going into the mail for Canada's 489,000 farmers.

In a statement Mr. Hays said: "Since becoming Minister of Agriculture, I have been concerned at the number of farmers who are not fully aware of the research, credit and other services available for their assistance and betterment from their federal Department of Agriculture."

"I am at present reviewing our whole information service to see whether it can be made more useful to farmers in their day-to-day operations."

"As a first step we are sending out this week a 'Farm Letter' in pamphlet form which carries a factual outline of improved credit facilities recently provided for Canadian farmers by parliament, through the Federal Farm Credit Corporation."

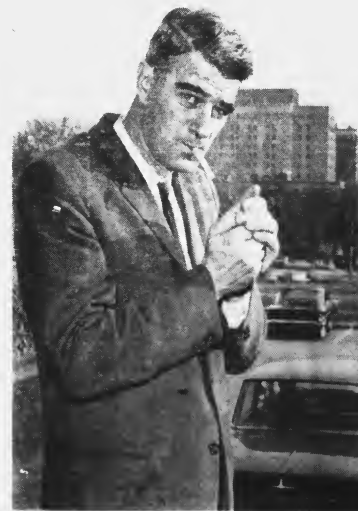

"This information that can be of considerable importance to the farmers who want to expand or otherwise improve their operations. This pamphlet-sized summary is being mailed direct to farmers across the country in the belief that action by Parliament on behalf of farmers is wasted if they don't know about it and are therefore not in a position to benefit from it."

"We expect to make further use of this direct approach to farmers in my department's information program as other matters of practical importance to farmers develop from time to time in the future."

The pamphlet summarizes credit facilities available since parliament, in June, approved amendments to the Farm Credit Act. The amendments doubled the ceilings on loans available from the Farm Credit Corporation, enabled a farmer to borrow to help a son, daughter or other close relative establish or improve a farm, and provided that the Corporation can help a farmer's heirs by lending to the administrator.

Waterfowl Bag, Possession Limits Unchanged For '64

Waterfowl bag and possession limits are relatively unchanged in Alberta this year according to the 1964 Migratory Bird Regulations, details of which were released recently by the Canadian Wildlife Service, Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources.

Bag and possession limits for ducks remain at five and ten, excepting mallard ducks, for which the limits are four and eight. The bag limit for geese is five, of which not more than three may be white-fronted geese, and the possession limit is ten, of which not more than six may be white-fronted geese. Other bag and possession limits are five and ten for rails, coots and gallinules, and eight and 16 for Wilson's snipe.

The two-year closed season on canvasback and red head ducks has improved the population levels to some extent, and a limited harvest will be allowed this year. Two of these birds may now be included in the daily bag limit and a total of two in the possession limit. This applies to the three Prairie Provinces, Ontario and Quebec.

The following changes in the regulations apply across Canada.

- 1—It is now mandatory that hunting be discontinued after the daily bag limit has been reached.
- 2—A hunter may not possess or transport a migratory bird unless one wing and wing plumage remains attached to the bird. The wing and plumage may be removed if the bird is prepared for immediate cooking, or after the bird has been taken to the hunter's residence or to a commercial freezer locker. Migratory birds may not be exported from any province unless one wing and the wing plumage remains attached.

- 3—Hunters may not use recorded bird calls or sounds, or mechanically or electrically operated calling devices.
- 4—A hunter who cripples or wounds a migratory game bird must now make all reasonable efforts to retrieve the bird, and if a wounded bird is recovered the hunter must kill it immediately.
- 5—Special permits may now be obtained by managers of civilian airports or the commanding officers of military airports to take migratory birds which are endangering the safe operation of aircraft.

There will be two hunting zones in Alberta this year rather than three as in the past.

The details of the opening and closing dates are as follows:

- 1—In the Northern Zone—Ducks, Rails, Coots and Wilson's Snipe, September 7 to November 28.
Canada Geese and White-fronted Geese, September 7 to November 28.
Other Geese, September 7 to November 28.
- 2—In the Alberta Goose Management Range—Ducks, Rails, Coots and Wilson's Snipe, September 21 to December 5.
Canada Geese and White-fronted Geese, September 21 to December 5.
Other Geese, October 5 to December 5.
- 3—In the remainder of the Province of Alberta—Ducks, Rails, Coots and Wilson's Snipe, September 21 to December 5.
Canada Geese and White-fronted Geese, September 21 to December 5.
Other Geese, September 21 to December 5.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mrs. Holstead:
I had meant to write to you long ago and let you know how we fared in our new change.

We like Delburne and the manse is very nice—fireplace that works in the house and blue spruce tree at our front door, good lawn and a nice tall hedge for privacy. Crab apple tree and a raspberry patch of our own, also a garden.

We are on a paved highway to our next appointment (Elmora) and it's a new one, so it is smooth and nice. The countryside is full of hills, lakes and trees, but we still miss our Crown Nest Pass mountains. They have an unforgettable beauty. We also miss our friends very much; but are enjoying the country friendliness very much.

Wendy has been quite happy here and was also happy to hear she had made her grade nine exams and will be in high school this year. The school is supposed to be very good and several made the Senior Matric, 13 out of 34, which is supposed to be good.

Hank misses his lovely mountains and says he isn't inspired to paint here. He wants to go to the mountains when we retire. He is very busy visiting at present. The town is filled with retired farmers and their wives. We have to visit hospitals at both Elmora and Red Deer. However, I enjoy shopping at Red Deer, while he visits.

We can also spend an hour with Lynne and family afterwards. They live ten miles away, at Lacombe. Gary, Anne and children are moving back to Edmonton as Gary will be back at University this fall on a fellowship. So we will also be able to see them occasionally.

I hope you and your husband and family are all well and we enjoy the Coleman paper a lot. You have been very kind and we miss you.

Do write sometime and we hope to see you when we visit the Pass, and come and see us.

I must make the family a cup of coffee to substitute for the exhilarating mountain air.

Bye for now.

Affect.

Card of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere thanks to everyone who attended my shower and for the very lovely gifts. Thank you also, to those who were unable to attend but who sent gifts or donations. A special "thank you" to the hostesses for making my shower such a success.

Attractive finish easy, just follow the system

An attractive finish that does not show the grain is easy to obtain on fir plywood, the most popular material used by the home craftsman.

The surface should first be given a coat of penetrating resin sealer to equalize absorption, according to the Paint Industry Council.

The first step, of course, is to prepare the surface. It must be sanded as smooth as possible, be clean and free of traces of oil, grease or laminating glue. Nail holes and breaks in the surface should be filled and sanded when dry.

If you are planning to end up with a colored, opaque finish which hides the surface completely, brush on a coat of pigmented penetrating sealer. After it has dried, sand lightly to restore a smooth surface and remove all sandings with your vacuum cleaner or a cloth dipped in mineral spirits.

If the top coat is to be a gloss enamel, the second coat should consist of equal parts of enamel undercoat and the top coat. If the top coat is to be a latex, apply a second coat of the resin sealer. Sand lightly before applying the final coat by brush, spray or roller.

Many people prefer a natural finish on good quality plywood, one that shows the grain of the wood. First of all, you must select plywood which has an attractive pattern and is free of blemishes or plugs. Next, sand the wood.

Now brush on coat of clear penetrating resin sealer. After this has dried, sand lightly with a fine or extra-fine paper.

You can either apply a coat of colored penetrating sealer or you can tint clear resin sealer with color-ox of the desired shade, reducing the sealer 25 per cent with paint thinner. Whichever you use, let it stand for a few minutes and then wipe off to get the color you want.

After the color coat has dried thoroughly, sand it lightly as before, and then brush on one or two coats of varnish.

For modern blonde effects, wait until the first coat of sealer has dried. Thin white pigmented resin sealer or enamel undercoat 50-50 with odorless paint thinner and brush on surface.

Let stand for a few minutes and wipe off with a clean, lintless cloth. After this has dried thoroughly, protect the surface with one or two coats of varnish.

An estimated 170,000 visitors have toured the GM of Canada South Plant passenger car assembly lines at Oshawa in the past 10 years. A walking tour would take days to complete so visitors travel by motorized 'train'.

YOUTH ALLOWANCES

IMPORTANT NOTICE FOR PARENTS

At the end of September the first payments will be made under the Youth Allowances Act recently passed by Parliament. If you have a child who is 16 or 17 years of age, is maintained by you, and is either in full-time attendance at school or university, or is unable to attend by reason of physical or mental infirmity, you may be eligible for a monthly allowance of $10.

THIS ALLOWANCE MUST BE APPLIED FOR — IT WILL NOT BE SENT AUTOMATICALLY

During August application forms were sent to the parents of children already 16 or 17, or who would be 16 before September. If you have a child who meets the above requirements, and for any reason an application has not reached you, you can obtain one by writing to the Regional Director of Family Allowances in your provincial capital.

The applications should be returned as soon as possible, in order to ensure prompt receipt of the first payment.

MEN WHO MAKE TYPE TALK

A good gauge of the economic and social health of a province is the number and quality of its weekly newspapers. Alberta ranks first in number in the West, and the Alberta Weekly Editor's Association is devoted to a lively exchange of ideas and the encouragement of highest editorial standards. The typical Alberta weekly newspaper is often a one-man business... and the editor his own advertising man, reporter, editor, accountant, and printer. He knows the community problems and enterprises, and because he is a personal friend of most of the town people, his editorials are factual and meaningful. Many Alberta weekly newspaper editorials have been quoted as examples of editorial writing at its best... peppy, pointed, and pungent! Truly, Alberta weekly newspapers are the mirrors of the communities — thanks to editors who are known for their original thinking, and contributions of leadership to the thriving towns of OUR ALBERTA.
